Ho, Ho, Ho and Merry Christmas! I really can't believe it is already Christmas time! It has been a busy year filled with Band Camp, football games, the Christmas Sing-a-long yesterday morning and a host of other wonderful events. There is no downtime at Harding Academy!

Our Christmas Concert this evening is always a special concert. It is the first for our Beginner Band and a first of the final concerts for our Seniors. If this is your first concert or you've been to many, we hope you enjoy the sounds of the season as we kick off this most wonderful time of the year!

See you on the downbeat,

Colby Canterbury

Colby Canterbury is the band director of the Harding Academy Bands in Memphis, TN. He is a 1996 graduate of Harding University with a Bachelor of Music Education, Instrumental degree. Mr. Canterbury is currently pursuing his master's degree in Excellence in Teaching. He has taught for 27 years at Boyd Buchanan School in Chattanooga, TN and Bald Knob High School in Bald Knob, AR. He and his wife, Melissa, have two daughters, Maddie and Meagan. This is their 18th year at Harding Academy.

Concert Decorum

Applause is always appreciated. Please hold all applause between movements of the same selection. If in doubt, wait for the conductor's hands to go down. It is inappropriate to applaud a national anthem or a school's alma mater at a formal concert. Hollering, hooting, and whistling are inappropriate at a formal concert.

Walking around should only occur during intermission.

Talking and whispering should never occur when anyone is performing. Others want to hear. The band members want to be heard.

Small children are always welcome at the Harding Band concerts. If the child becomes fretful, feel free at any time, even in the middle of a selection, to slip into the lobby until the episode is over.

Student seating is in an assigned area or with parents.

Gentlemen's hats should be removed.

Behavior should be monitored by parents so that this will be a pleasant evening for all. You may also report problems to the director immediately after the concert.

Cell phones and alarm watches should be silenced.

Flash photography is forbidden while students are performing.
